

FROM THE GROUND UP: SOCIAL MOVEMENTS INSPIRED BY EVERYDAY PEOPLE

January 26th - 30th

Together we are entering an exciting new era led by President Obama, an individual who has displayed the power of grassroots organizing and the central role of hope and determination in effecting change. This year, the National Lawyer's Guild at King Hall is devoting NLG Week to organizations and people who, through their passion, determination and perseverance, have brought about change in their communities and for society at large. Their work inspires us all and serves as a model for our potential to be agents of social change.

Generously co-funded by: UC Davis School of Law Dean's Office, LSA, and ACS
